Université Libre de Bruxelles (ULB)

The Université libre de Bruxelles is one of the leading universities in Belgium, founded in 1834 and located in the capital. The university is known for its strong commitment to the values of free thought, secularism, and critical thinking, which have characterized its identity since its founding. It also offers a wide range of courses with a multidisciplinary approach. It has around 25,000 students and is very active in international research, with numerous projects and collaborations at European and global level. The Université Libre de Bruxelles is a prestigious and dynamic university, recognized for its academic quality and strong international openness, in a city that is certainly symbolic.

Universidad Autonoma de Madrid (UAM)

The Universidad Autónoma de Madrid is one of the most prestigious universities in Spain, founded in 1968 and located in the beautiful city of Madrid. The university is known for the high quality of teaching and research, particularly in the fields of science, medicine, economics, law, and social sciences. It stands out for its strong international orientation and participation in numerous European research projects. It has approximately 30,000 students and offers a modern academic environment, with well-equipped campuses and numerous opportunities for exchange and collaboration with universities around the world, including our university. The Universidad Autónoma de Madrid is a major European academic center, renowned for its excellent ''teaching and strong international openness.

Program's structure Eurosud TRACK 2

The program includes four semesters in total:

- the first and second semesters at UAM, with the achievement of 60 ECTS credits;
- the third semester at ULB, with the achievement of 30 ECTS credits;
- the fourth semester at Sapienza, with the achievement of 30 ECTS credits.

Available places

The maximum number of students who will be able to participate in the program during each academic year is 10. However, the call may provide for a different number of students than that established in the agreement. The number of students provided for in the call is that which has definitive value for each academic year.

Scholarship

Participation in the dual degree program includes the awarding of a scholarship "Erasmus+ study mobility", awarded by the Autonomous University of Madrid (UAM) for the third semester at the Université Libre de Bruxelles (ULB), and by the ULB for the fourth semester at Sapienza. The student, once enrolled in the UAM, can check the actual availability of the scholarship programme "Erasmus+ mobility per study" for successful semesters and consult the respective Call.

Tuition fees

Tuition fees will be paid at the UAM, as required by the Student Contribution Regulations:

- First academic year: 4500 euros (EU), 6000 euros (Non-EU)

- Second academic year: 4500 euros (EU), 4500 euros (Non-EU)

Who can apply

Student admission is conducted independently by an international commission composed of representatives of each university in Eurosud. Student selection is based on some minimum requirements:

- have obtained a three-year degree in Humanities or Social Sciences;
- demonstrate knowledge of English, French and Spanish, minimum level B2.

The final requirements are contained in the call, which is the one that has final value for each year.

Student's obligations

Students selected for the Eurosud programme are obliged to:

- provide all required documents in the Application at UAM;
- participate in classes and take exams at all partner universities, in their respective semesters, as scheduled.

The final obligations are contained in the call, which is the one that has final value for each year. In any case, students are always required to:

- sign a Learning Agreement;
- comply with academic and teaching requirements established by host institutions.

Publication of the Call

As a rule, the call is published every year in the period between October and February.

Study plan

The study plan, i.e. the list of exams that can be taken at the host institutions, is indicated in the call for proposals. For information purposes only, you can view the study plan contained in the calls for proposals of past years.

Evaluation system and thesis

The ECTS evaluation system is used to evaluate the results of any exam and final thesis, at all partner universities. The final thesis will be completed at Sapienza University during the fourth semester of the program, following current regulations. More information on this is contained in the annual call for proposals.
