ABOUT ROME

Rome is the capital city of Italy. Rome also serves as the capital of the Lazio region. With 2,872,800 residents in 1,285 km² (496.1 sq mi) it is also the country's most populated city. It is the fourth-most populous city in the European Union by population within city limits. It is the centre of the Metropolitan City of Rome, which has a population of 4.3 million residents.

Rome is located in the central-western portion of the Italian Peninsula, within Lazio (Latium), along the shores of the Tiber.

The Vatican City is an independent country inside the city boundaries of Rome, the only existing example of a country within a city: for this reason Rome has been often defined as capital of two states.

ABOUT ROME

Rome is an eclectic city: the religious world centre of Catholic Church, the fabulous ruins of the centre of the Roman Empire, and modern, bustling Rome.

All three seem incongruous, yet they live inside and beside each other with great ease. You will soon realise Rome was built to rule and dominate the world. Everything is on a massive scale, solid and “eternal”. Discover the greatness of Rome: Monuments, Museums, Buildings, Churches and Basilicas, Catacombs and Rome’s Castles.

Discover the Vicus Caprarius, called also “The City of Water”, a fascinating archaeological area in the heart of Rome. This spectacular area is a recent excavation of an imperial roman quarter. In the Vicus Caprarius the same water of Trevi Fountain gushes out.

Don't lose a walk in the gardens and villas or in search of the wonderful fountains of the city. Take note of Holiday and Feast in Rome! If you want to feel the roman atmosphere take a walk through the local typical markets! And don't forget to taste the Roman cuisine.
