Summer School 2025–2026 | Sapienza University of Rome

ROMA COMMON GROUND

Architecture, People, Environment

An advanced training course focused on inclusive and sustainable design in the Tufello district, one of Rome's historic peripheral neighbourhoods. Through ethnographic field mapping led by an international group of university lectures, the course develops a collaborative design process that integrates urban space, the environment and social dimensions, building on existing conditions. Lectures and talks by internationally renowned architects support the workshop activities, where ethnographic mapping analysis becomes a storyboard for the development of a diagrammatic model - an active tool for envisioning regeneration scenarios.

The Summer School is taimed a maximum number of 20 participants and awards 10 ECTS credits. Applicants must be 4th or 5th-year students or graduates in architecture, building engineering, or design from EU and non-EU countries.

Applications must be submitted by June 15, 2026, to: summerschool_commonground.diap@uniroma1.it. A CV and a portfolio (A4 max 20 Mb) must be attached.
